PROLOGUE

In the Eye of a Tiger linger flashes of the past year. How you see yourself as a tiger is up to you. Perhaps, after turning the pages of this book, you will know. The look is of you, the administration, the faculty, staff, and most of all, the students.

This year's TIGER staff presents a broad overview of what's happening around the College by the Sea in the unlimited phases of collegiate life. The staff has captured the glances of the rewarding and significant events that took place on campus.

Located in one of the most scenic cities of the South, Savannah State College, in its 98th year of pride, progress and excellence, has provided many students with the opportunity to take a new prospect of life with choice and fullfillment.

Where there are people, there are events that need to be recorded. This is what the staff of the 1988 TIGER has put forth every effort to do. The TIGER is a reminder of the enthusiasm, the feeling of nurture and growth, and the wealth of excitement that encompass a college campus.

This year's TIGER, in our own eyes, is a reflection of the character, scholarship, activities, and leadership demonstrated by the students at the College.

Each student is a part of this history of facts and pictures. As you turn the pages and see yourself in the eye of a tiger, remember that the past is a prologue of the future.

OFFICE OF
THE PRESIDENT

Dear Students:

As your venerable alma mater approaches the eve of her 100th birthday, surely she proudly counts you among her progeny. Your devotion, contributions, and accomplishments reflected in entries in Tiger 1989, are an outstanding tribute to her. Indeed, we who are the Savannah State College community of administrators, faculty, staff, students and alumni are fortunate to share these historic times which present to us crucial opportunities to foster the sturdy advance of the College into the twenty-first century.

I applaud the Tiger staff for this laudable yearbook. Also, I congratulate the students who will graduate this year. And to each and everyone of you, I extend best wishes for continued success in pursuing your educational and career goals.

Sincerely yours,

Wiley S. Bolden

MISS SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE

Dawn Linette Pinner

DAWN LINETTE PINNER, Miss Savannah State College 1988-89, was born February 15, 1967 in Kalamazoo, Michigan. She, along with her sister, Kimberly, and her parents, Mr. Paul Pinner and Mrs. Dorian Pinner, later moved to Indianapolis, Indiana.

During her freshman year, she participated on the women's track team and later became a photographer for the Tiger Yearbook staff. Other extracurricular involvements include membership in American Society of Mechanical Engineers (she was elected Miss ASME in 1987), participation in SSC's first women's cross country team, and membership in the Student Government Association.

Dawn has excelled during her academic tenure, making the honor roll every quarter since the Spring of '87 and being named twice to the Dean's List.

She lists among her hobbies photography, reading, arts, and crafts, jogging, and traveling.

Isn't she lovely!

Dawn poses during the homecoming game.

Isn't she beautiful!

Decorating Contest

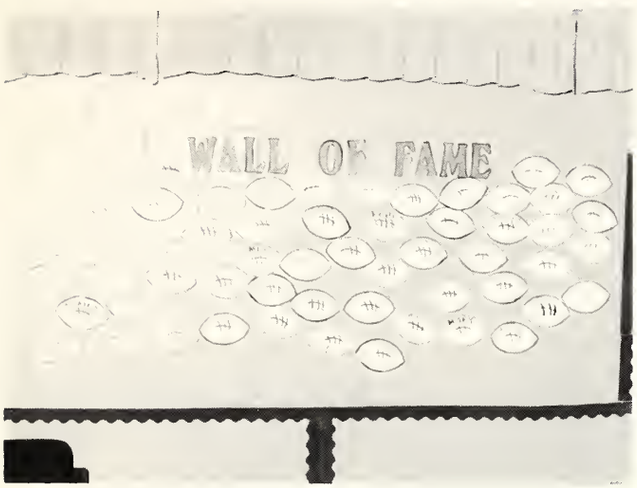
The faculty and students all took part in the pre-homecoming activities. One such activity was the door and office decorating contest. Here are a few of the best entries in the contest.



Lester Hall participated in the decorating contest by creating a "Wall of Fame," the football players.

Ms. Roberts and Ms. Cummings hold their second place office plaque representing the registrar's office.

The work study students and staff in the Office of Financial Aid say they are number 1. This office won the first place plaque.

Coach Myles, Mrs. Mincey, and Brenda Patterson hold the second place door prize for the Athletic Department Office.

Mrs. Richards and Ms. Howard hold the first place prize for the Public Relations Office.

Lester Hall speaks bluntly and truthfully about Morehouse College.

. . . More Homecoming Highlights

Midnight Breakfast

The 2nd Annual Midnight Breakfast was a smashing success. The students looked forward to this break after cramming for several hours.

Mrs. Brown-Hern helps with the serving line.

Mrs. Boyd takes Eric Smith's tray after he finishes his meal.

Coach Brooks tidies up the sink.

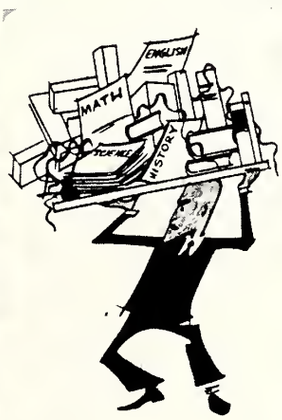
Mrs. Allen prepares the grape juice.



Vanessa Lavender waits patiently for the toaster.

The lunchroom staff helps out, too.

Coach Tillman and Lamont Nelson assist in the kitchen.

Sam, Keshia, Michelle, and Pam are chillin' at the breakfast.

Mrs. Franklin wipes the table for Katrina Simmons.

Founder's Day

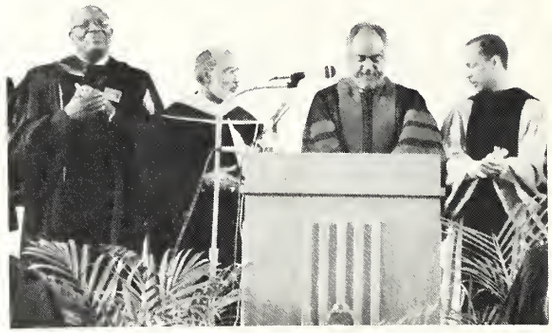
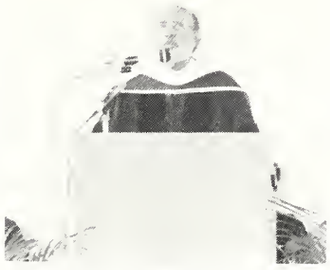
Noted author, scholar and SSC Calloway Professor Dr. Hanes Walton Jr., told students, faculty and alumni that Savannah State's struggle for existence is never ending. He stressed that "where Savannah meets the sea we rise." We have a long way, says Dr. Walton, but if we are to endure and continue our mission in the second century, the students must come back and make Savannah State what you want it to be.

Dr. Walton speaks to the students, faculty, and alumni.

On behalf of the students, James Simon, SGA President, welcomes the students to the second annual Founder's Day.

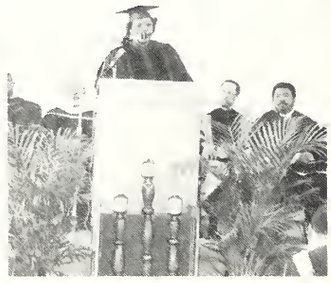


The platform guest applaudes Dr. Walton.



Dr. Bolden, acting President, welcomes the alumni to the second annual Founder's Day.

Ms. Penick, welcomes the faculty to the second annual Founder's Day.



Dr. Jimmie Jackson presents the college with a substantial amount to be used for academic scholarships.

Professor Emerita Martha Wilson elaborates on the significance of various buildings on campus named after those people who are now deceased.

Reverend Jesse Jackson brings Savannah State a message, "Keep Hope Alive." He arranged for many students to register to vote in the 1988 Presidential Election.

Jesse Jackson Visits SSC

Van Johnson III and Kenneth Flowe, SGA Vice President, accompany Jesse Jackson through the projects of Savannah encouraging blacks to vote.

All eyes on you!

Reverend Jackson says "Keep Hope Alive."

Dr. Bolden listens intensely to Reverend Jackson.

Reverend Jackson explains to Savannah State how important it is to vote. Be heard!!

USMC
and USN Birthday Celebrations

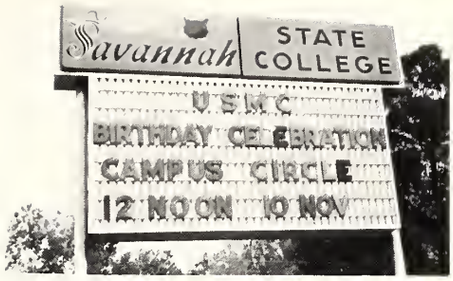
The U.S. Marines and the U.S. Navy celebrated their 213th birthdays. SSC salutes the disciplined and dedicated young men and women who demonstrate honor and pride for this great country.



The USMC celebration announcement could be seen from miles away on the campus billboard near the administration building.

Antionette Walker was the Mistress of Ceremony during the USN celebration.

Attention!!

The U.S. Navy celebration was held at Armstrong State College.

World Hunger Day

Savannah State College held a U.N. Hunger Day to focus attention on the ravages of malnutrition and starvation in our world, and specifically to raise money to help the people of Bangladesh who were devastated recently by tropical floods.

William Green, Jr. and Captain Keith Merrell salute to the pledge of allegiance.

Willie Chisholm, Joyce McLemore, and Rev. Donnie Woods.

MLK Parade

Efforts to "Keep The Dream Alive" were demonstrated as Savannah State College took part in the Martin Luther King, Jr. Parade along with the City of Savannah.

Mentors Program

Keith B. Wilson, Project Director for the Mentors Program, states, "The basis of the program is to help retain students with high attrition variables, such as students who are single parents, students in two or more remedial courses, athletes or students remediating for the Regents." The Mentors Program sponsors two presentations each quarter. One presentation is held off campus to encourage cultural exposure for the student. The aim is for the student and the mentor to connect and bond, thus providing the student with a support system.

Date Rape Seminar

Hilfred Shumake, U.S. Senate

Senator Shumake announced a proposal to AFDC recipients in which a small portion of their parents monthly allowance would be deducted and kept in a college fund until the child was 18. At which time, it would enable the child to attend college. The government promised to match the family's savings.

Senator Shumake

Upward Bound

Upward Bound stresses the value of education and self-respect by motivating high school students to aspire for success in academics and in LIFE. Upward Bound promotes the ideals of honesty and service as well as leadership. It rewards meritorious achievement and encourages students to continue their accomplishments.

Dr. Bolden recognizes the Upward Bound students during an award banquet for their accomplishments.

Everyone vividly expresses the latest motto, "I can't believe it from the cafe," as they eat a delightful meal.

Mrs. Wynn thrills another student with a reward for the effort he displayed for a brighter future.

Upward Bound students raise their voices in harmony to sing their farewell.

Phase II Talent Show

Phase II sponsored a talent show for the student body. The show included singing, dancing, acting, and playing the piano. Some of our best campus stars participated.

Ricky Kelly demonstrates his singing talent.

"Mastro Joe" sings while playing the piano.

Dance group, "Drawers and Panties", dance to "Rip It".

Quintonia Darden shows she has a singing talent also.

Bernard Mack entertains the crowd with his comedian talent.

Humaniora

Dr. Otis Johnson elaborates on the U.S. Arab Relations.

Amateur Night

The Peer Counselors Association sponsored the 1st Annual Amatuer Night imitation of "Apollo Night" for the freshmen class.

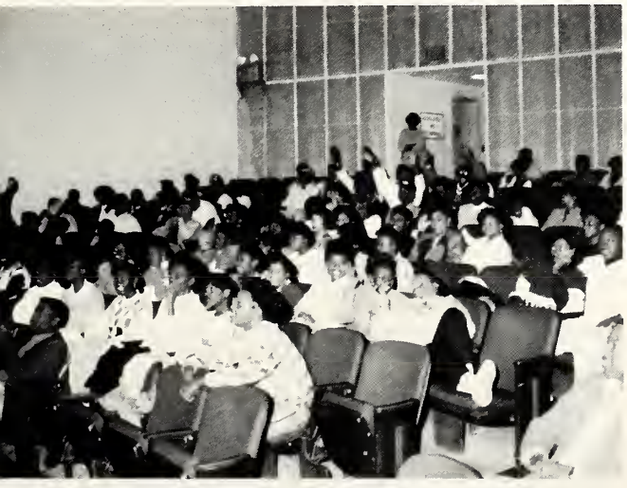
Durante Footman lip syncs Bobby Brown's "Don't Be Cruel."

Gary Oliver, Michelle Pinkston, and Mia Swanson chant a "Hello" cheer.

Anquinette Young lip syncs Anita Baker's single "Giving You The Best That I Got."

Onetha Boneparte and Charmayne Smith join in on the "Hello" chants.

Pamela Forston is the Mistress of Ceremony during the Amateur Night Show.



The audience looks on with anticipation.

Janell Westley, Charmayne Smith, Onetha Boneparte perform FATS (Fitness Aerobic Training Seminar).

FATS at it again . . .

Black Engineer of the Year

Lcdr. Donnie Cochran, USN

Lcdr. Donnie Cochran has been named the Black Engineer of the Year. Donnie is a 1976 Civil Engineering Technology graduate from Savannah State College. Donnie became the first Black Pilot in the Blue Angels about three years ago. He believes that to succeed requires discipline, preparation, self-confidence, and teamwork. Cochran gave some advice to students at his alma mater. He said we must decide what we want out of life and then pursue it by setting goals.

Black Campus Queens

Black queens from near and far came together for the first time to witness a program held in their honor. Our Miss S.S.C., Dawn Pinner, participated in the festivities.

Ebony Fashion Fair

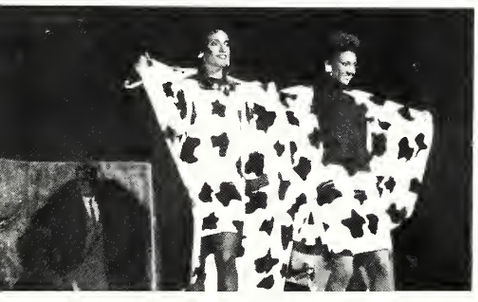
The Ebony Fashion Fair was held at Savannah Civic Center that was sponsored by Alumni Chapter of Savannah State College. Fashions from far and wide were displayed by models from the east coast.

Miss Ebony Fashion Fair



Mr. Holt plays an excerpt from the jazz ensemble.

Bobby does it again.

The Strollers applaude Bobby.

Raymond McClellan shows his stuff.

The Winter 89 Stroller Line charts a Kappa rap.

David Washington puts it to a mellow mood.

Psychology Club Talent Show

The psychology club sponosred a great talent show for the student body. Some of our regular campus stars participate along with some newcomers.

Trevon dazzles the crowd.

"YOU CAN ALWAYS TELL A SAVANNAH STATE STUDENT"

Learning Knowledge

Hailing from places such as Atlanta, Georgia, Miami, Florida, Chicago, Illinois, Brooklyn, New York, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, and Bahamas, each student at SSC has a unique characteristic. With the continuous expansion of our resources, this Institution thrives on academic excellence. Every student who has taken College Algebra knows that it is no piece of cake. Also, every student knows he will sit in front a computer during his college education. Because the students are eager to learn all there is to know, sometimes the library is unsurprisingly full.

Showing Off Fashions

It's understood that fashion is very important to students here. The females wear long skirts and soft sweaters, while the males prefer baggy to cropped pants with colorful printed shirts. Both sexes wear turtle necks, acid-wash jeans, and the biker shorts.

Keeping Healthy

Whether good or bad, the College has a reputation for its food services. At breakfast, lunch, or dinner, everyone enjoys a nutrious meal. Good times are shared in the dining hall, but sometimes students have a craving for foods served at the Blue Note, Campus Corner, Subway, Burger King, or even Ryan's Steakhouse. To make sure they don't get too fat, there's always aerobics to keep everyone in shape.

Having Fun

After a week of doing calculus homework or cramming for that history test, students are usually ready for the weekend. Things get started on Thursday night at Club 220 West. Then on Friday and Saturday nights, the Old Gym is the party place. Music can be heard for blocks as Randy T. mixes the latest dance music. Every weekend, the crowd gets more pumped. After the parties, the guys try their best to sweep the ladies off their feet and to hypnotize them to forfeit the games people play. Students also engage in frequent games of "Spades".

Dr. Michael K. Maher

1940-1988

Dr. Maher was born on December 23, 1940 in Chicago, Illinois. He obtained his Bachelor's Degree from Loras College in Deblek, Iowa, and his Master's Degree and Doctorate Degree in English from the University of Georgia. He began teaching at the University of Georgia, but later went on to teach high school in Augusta, Georgia. He taught at Savannah State College for 17 years.

Dear Dr. Maher, (My Mentor)

I never thought my days would be so unfulfilled with the disturbance of your death. Therefore, I often times find it arduous to come to terms with the realization of your absence here at our "College by the Sea." After the wringing news of your passing, I astonished myself with my own reactions acknowledging just how much of an integral role you have played in my life. Disregarding the tears that blurred my vision, I spotted beyond the objects, and I hurled and scattered crazily out of distress, my several boxes of poems, essays, and short stories. There they were, piles of papers you graded and critiqued, that I embraced. At the time I panicked that they were all I had left of you. "Strong thesis," "firm analysis," "well done," "rushed conclusion," "correct minor grammar errors," "vivid images in your poetry," "keep editing" penetrated my memories of you as I read. Remember the very first time I invaded your office and I said, "Teach me?" Of course, you recall that moment, because you, with no reservations, said, "Sure, as long as you want to learn." Initially, I quirked, "Oh, this guy must be some Marva Collins of the teaching industry who has no life outside of chasing and grading homework assignments." After one "D", an office visit, and an "A" later, I saw sincerity in your eyes and promise in your heart. I knew my goal was to learn. Never before had I wanted to absorb so much from anyone. And I thank you.

So now that you've given me so much, you just desert me? Don't you know, I wasn't finished? I had questions to last a lifetime. Just think of all the office time you spent helping me to develop an "A" essay in 40 minutes, critiquing my poem, and molding the building blocks to boost my confidence as a promising writer with exceptional talents. While this may be true, you never denied me the truth of what it takes — editing, more editing and possibly hundreds of rejections. So how could you leave me? So untimely? Perchance, knowing you as I did, goodbyes are just too permanent.

Now that you're gone, I frequently find myself lost. On several occasions, I've started a trip to your office with one of my latest writing ventures with hopes that I'd find you there at the typewriter with a cup of coffee nearby. The first few times I cried. After several trips, I accepted your being gone (physically), but you are so very alive (spiritually) as Shakespeare spoke from a poster; subjects and verbs chattered with agreement from the shelves, and maps took me to all the places we've traveled together during lectures.

Yes, you never really died. So I will always be surrounded by your life — be it the red and green comments on my English papers or the voices of your former students who have learned so much. To my heart, your absence brought nothing but remorse; now I thank God I was blessed enough to know you, to miss, and to celebrate your new life in me and those whose lives you've touched and are still touching.

Yours truly,

Zain Jacobs

But still we're consoled with this thought,
In Heaven you will be glad.

We didn't want to give you up;
Yet we know you've gone to rest,
So comforted are we by this thought;
To be in Heaven is the best.

On January 15, 1908, at Mecca of Negro Education, Howard University, the seed for excellence, scholarship and a devotion to the advancement of humankind was planted. The seed that was sown blossomed as Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the first Greek letter organization formed for young women. The sorority was incorporated on January 19, 1913. Alpha Kappa Alpha has grown from one undergraduate chapter to international acclaim with over 80,000 members worldwide, such as Gladys Knight, Coretta Scott King, and Rosa Parks. Gamma Upsilon was established at Savannah State College in September of 1949. The sorors of Gamma Upsilon are actively working on and off campus. Displays during Freshmen orientation, study break sessions, forums, and participation in Homecoming are only a few activities that they sponsored. This year, the sorors donated a fruit basket to the Chatham Nursing Home during Thanksgiving. They also assisted the Savannah Art Association in their "Inner City Youth Achievement Project."

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated, was founded by seven young men on the predominately white campus of Cornell University on December 4, 1906. Being the first Greek-letter organization for African Americans, Alpha Phi Alpha set the precedence for those to come. After 83 years in existence, the fraternity has nurtured some of the greatest leaders in all walks of life. Men like Martin Luther King, Jr., Thurgood Marshall, Nat King Cole, Jesse Owens, and W.E.B. DuBois are only a few of the brothers among the 100,000 that have helped to shape history. Delta Eta Chapter, founded on April 14, 1945, is celebrating its 40th anniversary at Savannah State College. The Chapter has made a strong commitment to making a positive contribution to the community by having tutorial workshops, participating in the Boys Scouts of America, heading a youth group for young men in high school, and visiting and caring for elderly in the community. Ever striving to live up to its motto, "First of All, Servant of All, We Shall Transcend All", Alpha Phi Alpha will continue to endure the test of time.

Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity was organized for the purpose of assembling college men into the fellowship and principles based upon the Boy Scouts of America. Its three cardinal principles are to develop Leadership, promote Friendship, and provide Service to Humanity. It was founded at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, on December 16, 1925, by Frank Reed Horton and Nineteen other undergraduates. As the years have passed, the fraternity has worked to fulfill its three principles on the national, international, local, state, and regional levels, helping all mankind. Alpha Phi Omega represents the beginning and the end of all things to come.

In 1913 at Howard University, twenty-two strong-willed young black women envisioned and founded an organization pledged to serious endeavors, scholarship, and public service to mankind. On these principles, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, was founded. Striving to uphold the image of love and public service to mankind, the women of Delta Nu chapter have conducted programs and raised funds which have benefitted the community and Savannah State College. The members of Delta Nu chapter engage in various public service activities, including visits to Chatham Nursing Home, Georgia Regional Hospital, and the Ronald McDonald House. They also sponsor baby showers for unwed mothers at Florence Crittendon Home. Blood drives and canned food drives are traditional service projects conducted by the ladies of Delta Nu. DST has many great members such as Lean Horne, Leotyne Price, Nikki Giovanni, Roberta Flack, Shirley Chisholm, Mary McCleod Bethune, Camille Cosby, only to name a few. Delta Sigma Theta is the largest national women's organization in the world.

The "Men of Crimson and Cream" continue to advance their goals of scholarship, community service, brotherhood, and personal development through social activities. Originally chartered as Kappa Alpha Nu on April 15, 1911, the Fraternity became Kappa Alpha Psi. Gamma Chi Chapter was founded on this campus in 1950 to meet the objectives of the fraternity of this college and community. Walter Payton, Chappie James, and Russell Davis are just a few of the men that have distinguished themselves as members of this outstanding Fraternity. Kappa Alpha Psi plans to continue service work and to maintain the values of brotherhood.

Manhood, scholarship, perseverance, and uplift, these were the cardinal principles that helped shape "The Sons of Blood and Thunder." Omega Psi Phi was founded in November, 1911 at Howard University. After more than 75 years of its founding, the fraternity has pledged well over 80,000 members nationwide, such as Jesse Jackson, Benjamin E. Mays, and Michael Jordan. On this campus, the Alpha Gamma Chapter was founded to provide leadership, to give a real meaning to life, to establish a lifelong friendship between men and women, and to cooperate with the institution of which it is a part. Various lecture series and other community programs keep the men of Alpha Gamma busy.

Phi Beta Sigma

On Saturday Oct. 8, 1913, A. Langston Taylor presented to Leonard F. Morse the proposition of establishing a new fraternity at Howard University. Charles I. Brown, another student at the university, was invited to join in the movement. These three men wanted to plan well for this new organization in order to insure its long life. The permanent organization was formed on Jan. 9, 1914. This date is considered the "Founders Day" of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. The original three founders, Taylor, Morse, and Brown, chose nine of their college classmates at Howard University as the charter members of the fraternity. These twelve men chose the name Phi Beta Sigma for the new organization. The fraternity has produced such great members as A. Philip Randolph, James Weldon Johnson, George Washington Carver, Ervin "Magic" Johnson, and Jerry Rice. The Gamma Zeta Chapter on this campus was established in 1940. The fraternity stands for excellence in scholarship, which is addressed through three national programs: education, social action, and bigger and better business. The fraternity's motto is "Culture for service and service for humanity." Phi Beta Sigma is "One Flight Above." This year, the fraternity is celebrating its 75th Diamond Jubilee Anniversary.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. was organized in 1922 on the campus of Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana by seven young school instructors. Of the seven founders, four are still alive and active. Sigma Gamma Rho is a non-profit, collegiate sorority, dedicated to the encouragement and promotion of high scholastic attainment, community service, sisterly love and the improvement of the quality of the members' lives and the society in which they live. The sorors of the Alpha Iota Chapter have implemented innovative programs, such as the canned food drive to assist the homeless at the Social Apostolic Food-Line, and participated in the March of Dimes Walkathon. The sorors, of Sigma Gamma Rho are committed to promoting a positive image and striving for excellence. This year a Greek Park was built for the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. was founded in 1920, on the campus of Howard University in Washington, D.C. as the sister organization to Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. Five women chose not to embrace the tenets of established black sororities, and chartered this sorority to encourage the highest standards of scholarship through scientific, literary, cultural and educational programs; promote service projects on college campuses and in the community; foster sisterhood; and exemplify the ideal of Finer Womanhood. The sorority was the first to charter international chapters in West Africa and Germany.

The Peer Counselors Association is comprised of upperclassmen who are concerned with the growth and development of Freshmen. They organize a week of activities to cultivate pride and to instill a family atmosphere for the new students. The duties of the Peer Counselors culminate in the Cabaret Dinner Theatre which includes skits, dances, and songs to instill school spirit and pride. This year the Peer Counselors sponsored an "Amateur Night" show for the Freshmen.

American Society of Mechanical Engineers

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers benefits students in that it allows them to become familiar with the professional field of Mechanical Engineering. ASME student members are informed of recent developments through publications, such as magazines and newspapers, field trips, local and regional meetings, not to mention guest speakers. In essence, ASME allows the students to apply their educational knowledge to the practical field. Once the students become professional engineers, they can retain their membership with ASME through which they reap the same benefits and more.

SSC "Orange Crush" Band

Under the direction of Mr. Freddie Holt, the SSC Marching Tigers are back in stride. Although they are young and building, the band program has the potential to be ranked with some of the best like FAMU, Southern University, and Howard University. Just imagine a football game without a marching band or a basketball game without a pep band. The Marching Tigers is a high stepping band ready to make a name for itself once again with its Dance Line, Flag Corps, and Drum Section. Being a part of the Orange Crush is an honor that only few can claim. Putting on the half time show may look easy, but members must work hard to be a part of the Marching Tigers. With the help of the students, faculty, and staff, the Marching Tigers will be back on the map.

The Morehouse College Band "takes notes" as the Orange Crush dazzles the crowd during the Homecoming halftime show.

Practice makes perfect . . . A last minute rehearsal before the SSC vs Albany State College game.

The band exemplifies pride for the College.

Yearbook

For many students, the first floor of the King-Frazier Complex was a place to hangout, play cards, meet friends, and eat lunch. However, a handful of dedicated students bypassed these types of activities each day to go to work in a small room on the second floor of the building — the Tiger Yearbook room. Staff members could usually be found doing the seemingly endless tasks necessary to complete the book. Long nights and weekends were spent in the room meeting deadlines as the most serious socializers became workaholics. Random shouts of everything from "Does anyone know the girl's name in the picture?" to "Where are my organization pictures?!" to "Who wants to type some copy?" echoed throughout the room. Although photographers, section editors, and typists seemed to come and go, a few staff members "hung in there" and helped to produce a book which would make themselves as well as the College proud.

TIGER TRACKS

As SSC students savored their last few weeks of summer vacation, the football team was busy getting ready for another season. Despite losing several key players, the team had hopes of another winning season. The opening contest with Fayetteville State University was close, but SSC prevailed with a 9-6 victory. During the first away game, the Tigers broke an eight-game losing jinx against Tuskegee University, with a come from behind 31-21 victory. Tuskegee was the preseason favorite to win the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship. SSC's Tigers could not find a victory during its next 3 games. They suffered loses to Alabama A & M University (10-14), Wofford College (23-24), and Morris Brown College (7-18). After making some changes in both the offensive and defensive lineups, the Tigers' hard work began to pay off. Coach Davis and his staff led SSC to victory with a 30-6 annihilation of Johnson C. Smith University. Next, Savannah State spoiled Clark College's Homecoming festivities by whipping the Panthers 58-14. Highlighting SSC's 98th Anniversary Celebration, the Tigers exploded past Morehouse College, 70-13. It was the most points scored by a Tiger football team since 1980, when SSC defeated Fisk, 77-0. The win over Morehouse was the 3rd in a row, which improved SSC's record to 5-3. After taking a week off, the Tigers came back to maul the Wildcats of Ft. Valley State College 41-14. SSC had a commanding 33-0 halftime lead. In its final outing, with nothing to lose and everything to gain, the Tigers defeated Albany State College 28-22, and knocked the Golden Rams out of a possible post-season playoff birth for the 2nd time in the 3rd quarter. It was the 5th win in a row for SSC, and ended the season 8-2, thanks to a forfeit by Morris Brown earlier in the season. The 8-2 record was the best in the school's history. Most of the players will return next year, and they are hoping for bigger and better things: Bryant Swinson was one of the leading blockers for the Tigers, which allowed Richard Basil to complete 55.7% of his passes for 1,497 yards and 15 touchdowns. Most of the catches were made by All America Shannon Sharpe, who hauled in 57 receptions for 1,031 yards and 12 touchdowns. Edwin Ford led the ground attack by grinding out 383 yards and 2 TD's. Defensively, Damon Johnson had 109 tackles and 9 QB sacks, but Darryl McCormick and Norman McGeathy were right behind him with 98 89 tackles respectively. Eric Brown had 7 interceptions and broke up another 24 pass attempts to lead the team in both categories. Several of the Tigers were honored for their outstanding performances during the season by the SIAC. They were: wide receiver Shannon Sharpe (SIAC MVP), quarterback Richard Basil (Best Offense), punt returner Willie Deloach (Punt Returns), cornerback Eric Brown, defensive tackle Damon Johnson and offensive guard Bryant Swinson. Coach Bill Davis was named SIAC Coach of the Year for the 2nd time in 3 years. Some National Football League scouts consider Eric Brown to be a possible pro prospect in this year's upcoming football draft.

SSC Dominates SIAC All-Star Team; Davis, Sharpe Receive Top Honors

By BRIAN LOVE
Staff Writer

Bill Davis coached Savannah State to its first-ever eight-win season in football, and in the process coached himself into Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Coach of the Year honors.

Davis won the honor Monday, and SSC's outstanding receiver Shannon Sharpe was picked Offensive Player of the Year.

Six Tigers including Sharpe were selected first-team all-conference off one of SSC's best-ever teams.

In addition to the 8-2 record, SSC was 6-1 in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

SSC quarterback Richard Basil also was selected as Offensive Back of the Year.

On offense, Basil was picked as the quarterback. Sharpe was the wide receiver and Bryant Swinson was selected as a lineman.

Defensively, tackle Damon Johnson and cornerback Eric Brown made the all-conference team.

Willie Deloach was picked as the punt returner.

"When you have good people, then you'll have good things happen to you," Davis said. "We just happen to have a lot of good players. They make it easy for you.

"I'm really happy for these young men. They are the people who make it happen. They do all the hard work."

Savannah St. Draws the Line

By BRIAN LOVE
Staff Writer

When most fans think of Savannah State football, quarterback Richard Basil and wide receiver Shannon Sharpe come to mind.

But the pair say they aren't the ones under the gun this week against Savannah State.

Instead, they point to the offensive line.

Saturday, the Tigers will travel to Albany for a 1 p.m. game against the Golden Rams.

Albany State has the top defense in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, giving up 7.67 points and 210.3 yards per game. The Golden Rams rank second in the country in scoring defense.

Meanwhile, the Tigers have the best offense in the conference. The Tigers are averaging 352.9 yards per game, while scoring 30.6 points.

The key is the Albany State defensive front, putting pressure on the opponents backfield.

"They have the No. 1 defense, so their line is doing a tremendous job," Basil said. "We have the No. 1 offense, so our line is doing a great job. We know they're going to try to do a lot of blitzing. But our line has been doing such a great job that it's going to be hard for them to get to me.

"Our line has to have been doing something or else our running backs wouldn't be gaining all the yards and I wouldn't have been able to pass. Our linemen are not only good, but they can think. They (Albany State) can't afford to send fewer than four because of our line."

Before the season, Basil was an unknown. Now, it appears Basil may have been the missing ingredient in the SSC offense.

Basil, a junior college transfer, is one of the top quarterbacks in the NCAA Division II rankings. Before last week's game, he was ranked 12th. For the season, he's completed 105 of 181 passes for 1,394 yards. He's only thrown four interceptions on the season.

On the other hand, Sharpe was known. Last year, he caught 60 passes for 1,078 yards and 10 touchdowns. He entered the season a marked man.

Yet, his stats are remarkably similar to last season. In nine games, he's caught 51 passes for 8? yards and 11 touchdowns.

Sharpe credits his success to the offensive line.

"Last year, I snuck up on people. No one was expecting that," Sharpe said. "This year, everyone knew I was double and triple teamed. I was beginning to doubt if I would get 1,000 yards. But I told the offensive line it didn't as long as we won. Several of them me, 'Do you want 1,000?' I said yes. They said, 'We'll get it for you.' Now, I only need 114 yards for 1,000.

"But it's like I said yesterday I'd rather take a victory."

Before the season started, the quarterback spot was up for grabs. Many, including Sharpe, thought Johney Jeffrey would be the starter. Instead, Basil won the role.

Sharpe said he could tell right off Basil was the quarterback.

"Coach had told me he could throw the ball," Sharpe said. "I didn't know anything about him since he was from a JUCO. But I knew he was a leader. He did everything right. He is our leader. He takes charge in the huddle; nobody talks. He makes us go, he and the offensive line."

SSC's Brown - Sharpe To Be Featured

Savannah State College Football players Eric Brown and Shannon Sharpe are scheduled to be featured in the 1988 National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) College Football Press Kit.

Brown led SSC in pass interceptions in 1987 with 7. He returned the interceptions for a total of 111 yards and 1 touchdown. His 1987 production earned him 1st team All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletics Conference honors.

Sharpe rewrote the Savannah State receiving records last season. He caught a total of 60 serials for 1078 yards and 10 touchdowns. He had 7 consecutive games in which he scored at least one (1) touchdown and, he had catches for over 100 yards in 5 consecutive games.

Tigers Become Uncrowned SIAC Champions

By BRIAN LOVE
Staff Writer

ALBANY – It had the appearance of locker-room of the World Series winners.

There was yelling, dancing, singing, and, yes, champagne spraying. And it was deserved.

In the record book, it won't say Savannah State won any championship on Nov. 12, 1988.

But in their hearts, the players and coaches know they did. By beating Albany State 28-22 here at Hugh Mills Stadium, the Tigers can call themselves the uncrowned Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Champion.

Albany State, which dropped to 8-2 and 6-1 in the SIAC, came into the game with the conference title. The Golden Rams defeated Morris Brown last week.

SSC, which closed its season also at 8-2 and 6-1, could not win the title no matter what the result. The SIAC ruled at the start of the season that schools on NCAA restriction or probation would not be eligible for conference titles. SSC's athletic program was placed on restriction when the school did not meet NCAA Division II requirements by not fielding a women's tennis team.

So the victory was sweet for SSC coach Bill Davis.

"When we started to August we knew we couldn't be the conference champions," Davis said. "But if you beat the champ, you are the champ. And we beat them on their own field."

And they did it in impressive fashion, using a balanced attack. The Tigers gained 170 yards on the ground and 171 passing. Albany State gained 202 yards rushing and 136 passing.

"I don't know where to start pinning the laurels," Davis said. "There's so many. Coaches don't win games. Players do. We knew coming in here we had to stop their running game. We knew their passing wouldn't hurt us."

Willie Conway was the main concern of the Tigers. The freshman back gained 133 yards and scored three touchdowns on 16 carries. But for most of the game, he was bottled up by the Tigers.

But the main with the pressure on him was center Allen Williams. Playing with a bad knee and a hurt foot, Williams had to block nose guard Wilbert Cooper, who, the coaches said, is the key to the Golden Ram defense.

Williams had little problem.

"I had to take him on myself," Williams said. "He whipped me a couple of times early. But coach told me to suck it up.

"The offensive line deserves a lot of credit. We had some downfalls in the game, but we were able to move it."

And the Tigers moved it with they needed it. SSC scored in all four quarters of the game.

SSC's first touchdown was a 3-yard sprint to the right corner of the end zone by Corey Ladson, capping an 88-yard, 12-play drive with 5:37 left in the first period.

Albany State tied the game at 7-7 with 14:51 left in the half on a 33-yard run by Conway.

History was made when these 7 women came together to compose Savannah State College's 1st women's cross country team. They endured, and even though the season was relatively short, it was successful. The women did not falter when they met with long miles and steep hills.

The cross country team was recognized during the SSC vs Ft. Valley football game.

TIGERS IN ACTION

Tigers To Meet Miami

By BRIAN LOVE
Staff Writer

Normally, a smaller school playing a bigger one is given little chance, but Savannah State coach Bob Eskew says his team will try to overcome the odds tonight when the Tigers play on the road against the Miami Hurricanes.

SSC is a NCAA Division II team, while the Hurricanes play in Division I, where there are normally bigger, stronger and quicker athletes.

Miami also has a more impressive record. The Tigers are just 11-14 on the season, while Miami is 16-12. Yet, SSC coach Bob Eskew is not throwing in the towel. Although he admitted when he signed to play Miami last summer it was a "money game," Eskew said his team is going there to win.

"Any time we stop on a basketball court we feel we've got a good chance to win," Eskew said. "They lace up their shoes the same way we do.

"We're going to have to play a different style than we normally do. I don't intend into getting into a running game with them."

That makes sense. The Hurricanes like to run and gun. On the season, Miami is averaging 90.1 points a game, while giving an 90.6 per outing.

Foward Eric Brown leads Miami in scoring, averaging 24.6 points per game. Forward Dennis Burns averages 15.6 points and guard Joe Wylie averages 10.6.

SSC is coming off a 66-60 loss to Albany State Saturday night. Although the Tigers held Albany State to 16 points below its scoring average, the offense punch needed was missing since forward Steve Kelly, the team leading scorer, missed the contest due to a death in his family.

However, Kelly will be back in time for tonight's game.

"I think we've got some guys on the team who want to play a lot better against Miami than they did against Albany," Eskew said. "I'm expecting some of the guys to play a substantial role. Plus, we'll have Kelly back, that'll be a big boost for us."

Kelly averages 14.9 points per game. Anthony Roper averages 14.8 points per game.

BAT SMACKING TIGERS

Williams Finally Gets NCAA Recognition

By BRIAN LOVE
Staff Writer

Savannah State's Van Williams hasn't exactly been waiting for five months for his NCAA title.

Because he didn't know about it.

But he wants it soon.

"I've got to ask coach (John) Myles about it," Williams said. "My mother keeps asking to see it.

"It really caught me by surprise. I felt somehow from Armstrong would have claimed it. I was out of town this summer and didn't know about it. I came back and coach said 'Congratulations.' I asked for what. He said I won the stolen base title."

Last spring Williams stole 26 of 28 bases. The 1.1 steals per game average was best in the nation, says NCAA statistics.

"The guy who had the most steals had something like 45," Williams said, "but he played in about 60 games. Playing in 28 games, I didn't think we would make the quota for anything."

This summer Williams was invited to participate in the Pittsburgh Pirates tryout camp held at Armstrong State. While in the camp, he ran the fastest 60 (6.6) and was rated to have the second-best arm.

It wasn't until this past season he gained attention of the baseball scouts. During last season, he batted .501 with three doubles, a triple and two home runs in 67 at-bats.

In fact, Williams was discovered by accident.

"We were playing South Carolina-Aiken and a scout from the Minnesota Twins was there to see their center fielder," Williams said. "He got interested in me. He asked coach about my work habits. He told me to keep up the good work, his team was interested in players like me. Before that day, school had been getting to me. I was glad it happened because it showed me I had to do my best on and off the field."

With the limited season last year many, including catcher Randy Pitts didn't get recognition from the NCAA. If he had enough at-bats Pitts would have won the NCAA batting title.

But Williams feels the Tigers will get more recognition this season since SSC is scheduling more games.

"I think I could have a better season," Williams said. "I was only three at-bats from coming in second in batting. I see everything improving by adding the 16-15 games."

Although he'll be a sophomore on the field, Williams will have just two years left in the classroom. He says he'll wait until he graduates before deciding what to do.

"I'm like to play professional ball," said Williams who's majoring in criminal justice. "I'm going to graduate. I plan to go to law school. If I get drafted, then I'll play professional baseball before going on to any professional life."

1 #3 Van Williams awaits the pitch.
2 Anthony Wiggins helps call the signals at 1st base.
3 Coach Myles hides behind the screen.
4 Kevin Drayton tries to steal a base.
5 #22 Randy Pitts is up to bat.

Women's Tennis Team Features Dike, Amina

by Keith Byrd

Savannah State will finally have a Women's Tennis Team this spring, which means SSC will not be in violation of the NCAA guideline for the number of men's and women's teams required for the school.

Last spring SSC was put on probation by the NCAA for not having the required number of women's athletic teams, which was supposed to be four.

This spring, however, SSC will be represented in tennis by two co-eds from Nigeria.

Both Maryan Amina and Rosalie Dike are entering freshmen here and both are on tennis scholarships.

Ms. Amina and Ms. Dike have been in America for two months now and say they are enjoying their stay so far.

"When we first came here everyone was so friendly to us," Ms. Amina said.

The two are very optomistic about the upcoming tennis season, but feel they need more practice.

"With tennis, you need to practice all year round to keep in shape," Ms. Amina said.

The two have been playing tennis for quite a while now. Ms. Dike for six years and Ms. Amina for seven years. They practice two hours every day on SSC's tennis courts.

The two co-eds say they left Nigeria to come to SSC in hopes of earning a degree and someday playing professional tennis.

"America has more opportunities for the professionals than does Nigeria," Ms. Dike explained.

They enjoy watching pro-tennis. Ms. Amina especially likes Martina Navratilova while Ms. Dike's favorite is Chris Everett Lloyd.

Their other hobbies include ping pong, track, swimming and volleyball.

Stating her prediction for the upcoming tennis season, Ms. Amina said, "By the grace of God, we hope to be as good as we can be."

"We promise to do our best for the school," Ms. Dike said.

Editor's Message

Dear Savannah State College Family,

It has been a great honor and privilege for me to be Editor-In-Chief of the 1988-89 SSC "TIGER" yearbook. It is my sincere hope that this book has captured at least one special moment and/or memory that you hold dear.

With the help of some dedicated and enthusiastic individuals, we, the TIGER staff, feel we have produced the single best edition of the TIGER yet. This year we tried to use every creative method that was available to us. Our goal was to use techniques that would breathe life into each and every page.

During the year, I used to think, "What have I gotten myself into?" There were days when I felt like walking away from it all when it seemed as if nothing would go right, but that's when I would turn to God and ask him to give me strength. I sacrificed a lot of my time to produce this book, and if I had to do it again, I would.

To those of you who see something in "THE EYE OF THE TIGER" that you do not like, tell me. If there is something that you do like, tell others. Fellow Tigers, I challenge you to join the 1989-90 yearbook staff and make the next edition even better than ever in the upcoming celebration of our alma mater.

May you carry this book and the memories it harbors in remembrance of your college experience.

Respectfully yours,
Renee Rolling

Colophon

Volume 41 of the 1989 TIGER was printed by Herff Jones Printing Company in Montgomery, Alabama. Mr. Tom Neal and Dorenda Strock, Herff Jones Representatives worked with the staff in the production of the book. Pages were printed 80 lb., High Gloss Bordeaux with a press run of 1300 copies. The TIGER is paid for with student activity fees and only solicited advertisements from seniors. Theme: THE EYE OF THE TIGER.

The 1989 TIGER yearbook is copyrighted by the 1989 TIGER Staff and Renee Rolling, the 1988-89 TIGER editor. No part of this book may be copied, photocopied, or in any other reproduced without the written permission of Renee Rolling.

The copy was printed in Times Roman type face using the following sizes: divisions — 60 pt; page identifications — 8 pt; index — 6pt, subheadings — 24 pt, 18pt; headings — 36 pt; and body copy — 10pt.

All individual shots were taken by Mr. Warren of Suburban Delta Studios, Inc. The candids and group shots were taken by staff photographers. The cover design and endsheets were chosen by the staff members. The color of the cover is antique blue with a crushed grain surface. The Tiger on the cover is a silver metallay. Silver ink is applied to the backbone and the front lid of the book. The artwork on the organization pages was executed by Miss Cynnamon Flowers.
